

Workplace Giving

Join a special group of caregivers supporting people in need through our Workplace Giving Program.

Caregiver donors across St John of God Health Care make a difference each day not only through their work, but also by generously donating in support of exceptional patient care – many through our Workplace Giving program.

Workplace Giving is a simple and meaningful way to donate regularly and support patients and the community. You can make small, regular donations from your pre-tax pay on a fortnightly or monthly basis, making it easy, low cost and extremely effective – especially when groups of caregivers come together in support of a cause.

How to sign up for Workplace Giving

If you're a new caregiver, your completed form can be returned to HR with your pre-employment forms. If you have already commenced working for St John of God Health Care, your completed form can be uploaded via the Caregiver Employment Services portal.

Search 'Workplace Giving' on Cora for more information, or call the Foundation team on 1800 281 288 if you require assistance.

Benefits to caregivers

By becoming a Workplace Giver, you can enjoy the tax benefits immediately, every fortnight. A record of your donations across the year will be maintained by our Payroll Office, and your contributions will appear on your Payment Summary. Plus, you'll know that patients and clients in need will directly benefit from your generosity.

The Foundation will keep you up to date on how your donations are making a difference with regular impact updates.

How it works

It is as simple as pledging a nominated amount (from as little as $2 per fortnight) to be deducted from your pay.

Once it has been set up, the deductions are made automatically each pay period. You can cancel or change your contribution at any time.
